As a highly experienced professional with over 20 years of expertise in various industries, including project management, sales, and other fields, I possess a broad range of skills that have been honed through a diverse array of roles. I am fully eligible to work in the UK and hold a Driver's License for A and B categories.

Throughout my professional career, I have excelled in a variety of roles ranging from Manager and Building Surveyor to Business Development Manager and CEO/Founder. My skillset includes inventory management, staff management, customer service, marketing and promotions, property inspections, energy efficiency ratings, and generating EPCs.

Notably, my experience as a VIP Driver enabled me to provide professional and reliable transportation services to a diverse range of clients, including international government, sports, and business delegations. I prioritize punctuality, safety, and customer satisfaction, which has resulted in positive feedback and a proven track record of exceptional service.

As a Business Development Manager, I have an excellent understanding of the critical components of identifying new business opportunities, pursuing leads, and negotiating favorable agreements. Strong communication skills, building and maintaining relationships, and a deep understanding of target markets are among my key strengths.

Furthermore, I have broad experience in operations and management, including overseeing daily operations, managing staff, expanding customer bases, defining customer needs, and providing ongoing client support. My technical consulting services and trade negotiations rely on my extensive knowledge of the heavy industry market and partnership-building skills.

I possess a wealth of skills, including expertise in MS Office, CRM software, Retail Sales, Inventory Control, Business Consulting, Direct Sales, Customer Support, Data Entry, B2B, Negotiation, and Customer Service. I'm fluent in Polish and English, with a beginner's level of proficiency in Russian and Ukrainian.

In summary, my extensive experience and proficiency in diverse roles have equipped me with exceptional skills critical for success as a BDM, including relationship building, sales, negotiation, and strategic thinking, which enables me to stay ahead of the competition and drive growth for an organization.
